Israel/Palestine Resources for peace, justice, and human rights

Connexions, an information clearinghouse founded to promote justice, democracy, and social and environmental alternatives, has compiled this Web gateway to selected resources on Israel/Palestine. These resources were selected to help those who believe that a solution to the conflict is possible only on the basis of justice, equality, mutual recognition and an end to Israel's occupation of the Palestinian territories. More articles, books, videos, documents, websites and groups can be found on the Connexions Web site – www.connexions.org, which also features a library of articles and links concerned with alternatives and social justice issues generally.
