Dear Al,

Here is an article I've worked on for quite some time and which I submit for publication in the N.I.

You will note that I very carefully excluded any polemical arguments from the attached Part One. I did this deliberately since I wished most of all ~~to set~~ the facts set down straight and dealt with as comprehensively as possible in the limited space available in the party press for such a vast subject.

I'm now working on Part Two, where I shall draw my political conclusions from the factual economic study ~~of~~ I now submit. However, Part One can be published independently and should by no means be held up until I have concluded Part Two.

For the convenience of the printer I have triple-spaced the article. For your convenience I attach ~~the~~ the contents of the article that you may the easier find any section you're particularly interested in.
